INSTRUCTIONS FOR MEDICAL CERTIFICATION

WHAT IS A "CAUSE OF DEATH"?

For the death certificate, a cause-of-death statement should involve only those disease entities which have contributed to the death. Symptoms or findings are not wanted except as they are needed in determining the underlying cause of death.

DEFINITION OF IMMEDIATE CAUSE OF DEATH:

The last of a series of disease entities which contribute to a death will be known as the immediate cause of death. When there is only one disease entity present, this becomes the immediate cause of death.

DEFINITION OF UNDERLYING CAUSE OF DEATH:

The disease entity which initiates the series of disease entities resulting in death will be known as the underlying cause of death. When there is only one disease entity present, the underlying cause of death and the immediate cause of death are considered to be identical. The underlying cause of death should be written in the space following the words due to and should be stated in reverse order of occurrence from the immediate cause of death.

If there is more than one cause contributing to the death, the physician is expected to underline that particular ONE cause to which, in his opinion, the death should be charged for purpose of statistical tabulation.

DEFINITION OF OTHER CONDITIONS:

Other conditions, existing coincidentally, which might have contributed to the risk of dying, but are not related to any clear-cut manner to the immediate or underlying cause of death, should be given under this item. Pregnancy within 3 months of death should be included because so many times causes of maternal death are missed unless this information is noted.

If operation or autopsy findings exist, the physician is requested to list the major conditions which have weight in deciding the underlying cause to which the death should be charged statistically.

For additional discussion of this subject see PHYSICIANS' HAND-BOOK ON BIRTH AND DEATH REGISTRATION issued by the U. S. Bureau of the Census. A copy of this booklet may be secured from the Baltimore City Health Department.
